

Certificates

Khoury College of Computer Sciences offers numerous graduate certificates. These certificates may be completed as stand-alone credentials or in combination with a graduate degree. The graduate certificates offer the opportunity for working professionals or graduate students to broaden their skills and knowledge or stay competitive in the job market. Graduate coursework may be completed as part of a certificate program and applied toward a graduate degree in Khoury College.