School Psychology, PhD (Boston)

Northeastern University's Doctor of Philosophy in School Psychology program is accredited by the American Psychological Association and the National Association of School Psychologists. The program is designed to prepare the next generation of leaders in school psychology. The ecological perspective and scientist-practitioner training model provide the foundation for the program's educational goals. Students have an opportunity to learn how to conduct research, to use research to inform practice, and to contribute to the scientific foundation of professional practice.
